

Application Information for the MSF/GSMA VoLTE Interoperability Event 2011

The MSF and GSMA are pleased to invite your company to participate in the MSF/GSMA VoLTE Interoperability test event to be held in September 2011. This event will be hosted by major MSF and GSMA Operator members Vodafone and China Mobile in the Vodafone Centre for Test and Innovation in Düsseldorf and the China Mobile Research Institute Lab in Beijing. Additional sites may be identified later.

Participation Fees

The following participation fees are paid on a per company basis with no additional cost to participate at multiple sites.

|               |          |
|---------------|----------|
| MSF Members:  | $9,500  |
| GSMA Members: | $10,500 |
| Non-Members:  | $12,500 |

Operator Observation Fees

|               |                             |
|---------------|-----------------------------|
| MSF Members:  | Participation fee is waived |
| GSMA Members: | $1,000                     |
| Non-Members:  | $12,500                    |

Registration

Step 1: Identify the main contact within your company to be responsible for:

- Registering the company and all participants.
- Dealing with the payment of the event fees.
- Having the event NDA signed.
- Marketing and PR Contacts.

Step 2: Identify at which Host Site your company would like to participate.

The main contact for your company can indicate your interest in participating in the MSF/GSMA VoLTE IOT Event by sending an email to Ashley Wright (awright@msforum.org)

The first application window will be open until 30th March, if space is still available a second window will be open until 30th April. The planning committee will review the applications after each window has been closed and applicants will be advised of the decision. Space is limited and participation cannot be guaranteed.

NDA/Contract Requirements

An MSF/GSMA Non-Disclosure Agreement (NDA) and Contract are required to be signed by all participation companies.

Additional information can be found at: <http://msforum.org/interoperability/VoLTE.shtml>

The MSF Leadership Team, GSMA, China Mobile and Vodafone look forward to your participation in this major industry event.